Systemware Innovation celebrates 20th year of participation in the YMCA Corporate Team Challenge

Toronto, June 30, 2008 – Systemware Innovation (SWI) marked its 20th year of participating in the YMCA Corporate Team Challenge on May 28th with characteristic enthusiasm. Its 21 relay teams, encompassing over 80 staff, gave it the third-highest number of teams registered in the event this year. However, even more rewarding was SWI's overall contribution of more than $2,500 towards the YMCA Strong Kids Campaign, which is the main beneficiary of the Team Challenge event.

“Our employees really enjoy having the opportunity to give back to the community,” commented SWI CEO David Tremaine. “The YMCA Corporate Team Challenge is a great opportunity to do that, which is why we’ve been coming back year after year. I would also like to thank Don Lesco, one of our principals, for heading our involvement in this initiative since 1988.”

A leading provider of business and technology consulting services, the success of SWI relies heavily on collaboration between its analysts, its consultants, and its clients. “We have a strong team culture here at SWI and events like this only help to strengthen it,” remarked Jim Picha, VP Strategic Projects. “I think our clients appreciate the ability of our teams to look at things from their point of view and then implement solutions that will work best for them.”

“We see the same sort of attitude within the YMCA of Greater Toronto. Their work providing growth and leadership opportunities within the community has been a great inspiration to us, and we will continue to support the Team Challenge into the future.”

SWI has been providing innovative technology solutions to numerous industries since 1978. During this time, SWI has been a key contributor to the success of over 500 projects, including many within the energy and financial industries. SWI consultants work both as attached staff, complementing the clients' project teams, and on solutions managed at SWI facilities.
